FISHING FOR BIRDS.

Outching Gulls and Albatross With Rod and Line. Curious though it may seem, it is fact that birds are caught with rod and line in many parts of the world. The postime is declared to be almost as fasctnating as fishing. Gulls in Newfoundland are caught in this way in large quantities. In New England fishing for gulls and petrels is an important industry.

The method of bird dshing is practically the same as that of ordinary fishing. Two men go out in a dory and throw pieces of cod liver on the water. When large quantities of birds have been attracted to the spot more cod liver is thrown out on a book. This the birds greedily swallow and thus fall

Albatross are fished for in the same way off the Cape of Good Hope. A piece of pork is attached to a long line and thrown overboard. The bird will eye it for a' long time, gradually and cautiously making toward it. Suddenly he will seize it and hold it in his beak. When he discovers that he is caught he will sit on the water and vigorously flap his wings. However, he will be drawn into me boat and made a cap-

Albatross fishing is good sport, since the bird requires careful handling. So long as he pulls against the line it is easy enough. The moment, however, he swims forward the hook will drop from his beak unless it is skillfully manipulated, and the bird will find himself free.

A CURIOSITY IN BOOKS.

The Famous Chained Library of Wimbourne, Ireland.

Wimbourne, Ireland, is noted for many things, but its famous chained library is perhaps the most notable of its curiosities. The library posse unique interest as being one of the earliest attempts to disseminate knowledge among the people. The collection was made accessible to the people in 1686 and numbers some 200 volumes. The scarcity of books and the value of the collection are both indicated in the care taken for their preservation, and especially against loss of such treasures by theft. By means of chains and rods the books were securely fastened to the shelves, and these chains, it is rather surprising to learn, were not removed until 1857, when the library fittings were repaired. Among the interesting works of the collection is a copy of the first edition of Sir Walter Raleigh's "History of the World." 1614. It has suffered from fire, and tradition says that Matthew Prior was responsible for its condition, the story being that he fell asleep when reading it once upon a time, and the pages were burned by his candle. It has been neatly repaired, and its mishap now adds to its interest. The oldest volume in the library is a fine old copy in vellum of "Reginum Aninnarum." It is in manuscript and bears the date 1343.

First Glimmer of a Star. A little girl, the French critic Sarcey related, once presented herself at the Paris Conservatoire in order to pass the examination for admission. All she knew was the fable of "The Two

Pigeons," but she had no sooner recited the opening lines when Auber stopped her, with a gesture. "Enough," he said. "Come here, my

The little girl, who was pale and thin, but whose eyes gleamed with intelligence, approached him with an air of assurance.

"Your name is Sarah?" he said. "Yes, sir," was the reply. "You are a Jewess?" "Yes, sir, by birth, but I have been sh baptized." "She has been baptized," said Auber, speturning to his colleagues. "She has said her fable of 'The Two Pigeons' hapvery well. She must be admitted." Thus Sarah Hernhardt, for it was he entered the Conservatoire.

> A Kitten and a Needle. short time ago a woman living in gland was petting her kitten, when suddenly felt something scratch hand. On examining the spot sence the scratch proceeded, she felt point of a needle sticking out of r pussy's neck fur. The needle was led out by her husband, and aner surprise was experienced when it of found that a length of thread was ched to the needle, both having ed down the kitten's throat and igain from the fur.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription,

Is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse because of the uncertainty as to their harmless charactes, but is a medicine or KNOWN COMPOSITION. s full fist of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemi-ically pure glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up. The "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is in fact the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weak-nesses and silments, sold through druggists, that does not contain alcohol and that too in large quantities. Furthermore, it is the only medicine for woman's special diseases, the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended.

A little book of some of these endorsements will be sent to any address, postpaid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. Don't forget that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for woman's weaknesses and delicate ailments, is not a patent or secret medicine, being the "Favorite Prescription " of a regularly educated and graduated physician, engaged in the practice of his chosen specialty—that of diseases of women-that its ingredients are printed in plain English on every bottle-wrapper; that it is the only medicine especially designed for the cure of woman's diseases one that has a professional endorsement worth more than all the so-called "testimonials" ever published for other medicines. Send for these endorsements as above. They are free for the asking. If you suffer from periodical, headache, backache, dizziness, pain or dragging down sensation low down in the abdomin, weak back, have disagreeable and wesking, catarrhal, pelvic drain, or are in distress from being long on your feet, then you may be sure of benefit from taking Dr. Pierce's Esvorite Prescription.
